SATURDAY MORNING, APRIL 25, 1863

The Railroads at the Cascades and Dalles.

During the week, we have briefly alluded to the opening of the two railroads which have been constructed by the Oregon Steam Navigation Company, in connection with their lines of communication on the Columbia river and its tributaries the immense importance of these improvements, their cost, the difficulties surmounted in their successful construction, and the admirable manner in which they have been completed, seem, however, to demand more particular notice.

The natural obstructions to continuous navigation at the Cascades and at the Dalles, are well understood. They make a portage necessary for every passenger and every pound of freight, at points where deep ravines, steep bluffs, rocky cliffs and frequent land slides cause ordinary roads to be almost impracticable during a large portion of the year. Yet, on account of the constant and daily increasing travel and transportation demanding rapid and convenient passage, and with reference to future business, which, no one doubts, must at no distant day exceed the present, more than a hundred fold, the Directors of the Oregon Steam Navigation Company decided last year that they would undertake the stupendous work of putting railroads over these portages, and thus secure to themselves a great source of profit and revenue, and to the community a means of continuous communication to and from the seaboard, nearly five hundred miles in length.

Their resolution was followed by quiet but immediate and decisive action. If they had made money by the liberal patronage extended to them, they did not hoard it, but employed it freely in increasing their facilities for business, and in opening new channels for the public convenience as well as for their own profit. In this, at least, they deserve credit, and some consideration from those who have been gainers by their enterprise. The building of a railroad over a prairie, even, and where the necessary iron and lumber are convenient, is no trifling matter; but when, in a new country, rough, rocky and mountainous, remote from all the sources of supply of wood, iron and other needed materials, with labor at high rates, and under almost every possible disadvantage, such a work is undertaken, it requires no ordinary energy of action and outlay of money. Under such circumstances, its accomplishment is always justly regarded as a splendid triumph over almost superhuman obstacles. We think, therefore, that no one can inspect these roads in the interior of Oregon, built and in running order within less than fifteen months from the time that the project was first entertained, without admiring the energy and courage which have been displayed in pushing them forward in spite of every hindrance and difficulty, and regardless of the enormous expenditure made necessary by the peculiar circumstances under which they were constructed.

The Cascades road, six miles in length, was commenced on the 21st of May last, and that at the Dalles, which is about thirteen miles long, was begun on the 17th of March, 1862 The cost of these roads, exclusive of rolling stock, has averaged about fifty thousand dollars per mile, amounting, therefore, in all, to nine hundred and fifty thousand dollars More than one hundred and fifty thousand dollars will be necessary to furnish them with locomotives, passenger and freight cars, so that there is an investment of more than a million dollars to secure safe and pleasant portage for passengers and transportation for freight, at points which have hitherto been the dread and annoyance of all who traveled or forwarded goods from the west of the Cascade range to the interior And though this enormous outlay has been made, from which its owners have a right to expect an income, we feel confident that its effect to the community will be the reduction of the expense of travel and freight, and the public will thereby be the gainer. In this, we do not refer to temporary competition by steamboat lines, for we do not believe that any opposition can successfully compete with railroads, when teams and wagons are employed against them Experience has abundantly settled that question The opposition itself will make more money by paying the railroads a fair price and using them than by effecting its transportation with teams. We do not intend, in making this statement, to take sides with either party in the present controversy, but simply to illustrate the remark that the public is the gainer by the railroad, even though built at an immense cost, because, when finished and ready to operate, it has facilities that cannot be overcome or disturbed except by another railroad

Doubtless the company which has built these roads expected and will anticipate liberal compensation for its investment, and in our judgment, the public can afford to give it, and be better off than if the improvements had not been made. Nor do we think that any fair minded man, who examines the work and appreciates its magnitude—who sees its solid bed, its strong and splendid bridges, its whole admirable and wonderful accomplishment and recollects when, where and under what difficulties and disadvantages this has all been done will hesitate to commend the public spirit and enterprise of its projectors or to wish that they may be fully rewarded for their labor in devising and completing such a public benefit as well as such a monument of practical and sagacious enterprise, which ought to be as much an object of pride to our citizens as any that can be imagined

The Panama Railroad, when it was completed, was justly regarded as the wonderful event of this generation The obstacles, the cost, and the importance, all made it notable and its successful opening was greeted every where, yet we may safely say considering all the difficulties, the quiet and active energy employed the public necessities, and the great future of the valley of the Columbia that the two roads this week opened—almost half the length of that at Panama—comparatively are not beneath it, and that they will have a value and a history which will not be unworthy of consideration among the grand public improvements of the present day In this opinion we believe that all thinking men will coincide, when they consider the magnitude of the undertaking, the surprising rapidity with which it has been accomplished, and the vast and beneficial results which must come from furnishing such a permanent and adequate avenue for trade and emigration

Washington correspondence, dated 19th March, of the St Louis Democrat says

"THERE ARE NEGROES—AND NEGROES "

The advent of the mulatto Haytien Minister has produced all sorts of complications According to prevalent American ideas a man might as well be doomed at once as "eat with a nigger," but "our best society " including such lights as Lord Lyons, Baron Stokel, and the other diplomatic magnates, Senators Harris and Morgan, Secretary Chase and others gathered about Secretary Seward's hospitable board, in loving accord with the well bred mulatto who represents the Haytien Government The wealthier negroes of Washington, it is said, deemed the opportunity for cultivating friendly relations with the diplomatic circle a good one and have sought to pay their respects to the Minister, but, to their intense disgust "at the airs foreign niggers put on" have decidedly received the cold shoulder As the Minister of an independent sovereignty the Minister cannot meet on terms of social equality classes not so received in the country to which he is accredited

REFUGEE CONVENTION

The Virginians now in this city contemplate calling a Convention of Union refugees at an early day. It has not been decided where the meeting will be held, but most probably it will be in this city The ostensible object of this Convention is to afford relief to the distressed Union men, who are now seeking shelter beneath the broad folds of the flag they hold so dear But the real object undoubtedly is to take into consideration questions connected with the return of the old State of Virginia to the Union

Washington correspondence, of the same date, to the N Y Post, says

NEW OFFER OF A FOREIGN LOAN

Mr Chase has received an offer of a loan from abroad, which it is probable he will accept It is not the offer alluded to in the journals a week ago. That came from England and France, and was not upon the most favorable terms This offer, which was made yesterday upon the most favorable terms by a distinguished German banking house is under advisement The offer is to take $100,000 000 worth of bonds at something above par in currency. If accepted, it will of course give the Secretary the control of the exchange market for some time to come It is evident that whatever misfortunes may happen to the cause of the Government this spring, the Secretary will be abundantly supplied with money with which to prosecute the war There is no longer any doubt upon the subject, and the anxiety of the Government is not for money, but for military successes

GENERAL HOOKER'S ARMY

All the accounts from Gen Hooker's army both public and private, agree that he has made a wonderful change in its character It was never under McClellan the organization that it is at this moment A prominent General who was in this city yesterday, and who is under Hooker, declared that the changes wrought in the army during the last few weeks are are almost miraculous, and that whenever the time arrives for a contest with the rebels between Washington and Richmond, the rebels will be overwhelmingly defeated No dependence is to be placed upon the weather in March, however, and prognostications of the future are idle

THE PROVOST MARSHALS—THE COMING DRAFT

The President has started in the right direction in appointing Col Fry Provost Marshal General of the United States The deputy provost marshals in the Congressional districts will as soon as possible, be appointed upon the same principle Men who have served in the war and lost health, or have been maimed, will be sought out, if competent, and given the appointment The President is making out the appointments under the enrollment act as rapidly as he can, but he has not yet settled the main question under the act—how many troops to call for and when to call them It is safe to say that the provost marshals and the enrolling officers will not be all appointed much before the end of March The enrollment will occupy nearly two months, so that it will be impossible to draft before the first of June It will probably take till the first of July to get the new forces naturally into the service of the Government It will prepare beforehand for their equipment, to save time

ACCIDENT —A man by the name of John Miller fell from the wharf at Esquimalt harbor, on the 22d inst while the Sierra Nevada was discharging freight at that place, and in the fall his body struck a lighter lying alongside the Steamer He was taken from the water immediately, but all efforts to restore life proved of no avail

An Appeal from a Loyal Southerner to the North.

An eminent citizen of the Southwest living near the lines of General Grant has just addressed (through Secretary Seward) a stirring appeal to the people of the North in reference to the duty of directing every energy to the immediate suppression of the rebellion "Living in the very heart of this monstrous conspiracy against civilization and law understanding perfectly its spirit and intent, and agonizing withal over our dissensions" he implores the North to rise up as one man and never, under any temptation or discouragement, to withdraw for one moment from the work to which we have put our hands. "I have watched this rebellion," he says, "from the commencement and I know its success so far has been due solely to the singleness of purpose of those who have conducted it regardless of all else Why not, yourselves, rising superior to every thought and discarding every other interest, think and act only for the safety of your country, your liberties and your freedom " The North, he insists, animated by such a spirit, could end the rebellion in a month The rebels he adds, have now no hope but in the dissensions among the Northern people Deprive them of that and they are lost Upon this point he says

"The enemy, in truth, are beating up recruits with double vigor and they are taking unwilling and decrepit old men of fifty and sixty years all of which, however will amount to nothing before a united and determined North To day we have a heavy gale from the North, attended with a snow storm, the first that has fallen since the fall of Fort Donelson and which admonishes me that my friends are coming How glad I would be to welcome them My prayer for them is, as it always has been, that they will not be long in coming but, long or short, come and make your boundary as it was before, the Gulf of Mexico—determined in your united strength that you will neither bequeath this war to your posterity nor fight it twice yourselves but make a final end of it while you are at it. The cost in blood and treasure, though great, will never be less, and in truth, if we prove ourselves unequal to the task now, what guaranty have we for the future? Who can see the end unless with the examples of other nations before us, we picture a state of things at which every loyal heart will shudder?"

The utter hopelessness of permanent peace under any armistice that may be patched up is clearly exhibited by this loyal hearted Southerner

"Think, my countrymen what would be the consequence of so fatal a step In the first place to gain a short and ignominious peace you will have placed on your whole southern border, running through many degrees of longitude and separated from you by no natural boundary, a people who deliberately went to work, in times of the profoundest peace and greatest prosperity, to prepare to dip their hands in their brothers' blood, against the remonstrances and prayers of all the good men of the country, and thus attempted the destruction of the grandest political fabric that was ever created by the hands of man—a people who cared nothing for the sacred bonds of the Constitution, nor will, if they succeed in their infamous design, hesitate to violate the most solemn and binding treaty when it suits either their convenience or interest, holding constantly as a rod over your heads the mouth of the Mississippi river, a mighty stream that runs through and has its birth in your territories A people, whose self constituted President ignoring the fact that we are all of the same origin, took occasion to describe you only a few days since, before the assembled multitude and the Legislature of his State, as a people whose descendants Cromwell had gathered from the bogs and fens of England and Ireland besides much other low and disparaging abuse and who ostentatiously and unblushingly parades before the world the faults of those he is pleased to call our enemies only that they may engross public attention and thereby the better hide his own vile deeds—sins for which if he and his satellites had thousands of lives they could never atone—notwithstanding his scrupulous anxiety to enshroud all of his works in the robes of holiness Does the peace party of the North if there is any think they see in this spirit any means of an honorable or lasting peace No any [illegible] [illegible] or [illegible] for one day without first [illegible] the [illegible] for which you [illegible] that you are [illegible] and your country gone to pieces You are casting pearls before swine to waste your time in peace meetings for they will avail naught

To such an appeal from a Southern man speaking for thousands of loyal citizens waiting and longing for the appearance of the old flag what response can any peace monger, having nature in him make?

It is very singular I cannot obtain decent employment Jones with not half my ability is always looked after when an important position is to be filled while I can get nothing worth having Jones buys his clothing of Houston Hastings & Co, of Lick House, corner of Montgomery and Sutter streets San Francisco Smith patronizes the slop shops, abounding everywhere A word to the wise is sufficient

CITY.

The MORNING OREGONIAN has a larger SUBSCRIPTION LIST than any other Daily published in this City

ARRIVAL OF THE SIERRA NEVADA.—The steamship Sierra Nevada arrived at this port last evening, at half past seven, via Victoria. We are, as usual, indebted to Wells Fargo & Co. for full files of California and Victoria papers, and to Purser Haskill for the following memoranda and passenger list

MEMORANDA.—Steamship Sierra Nevada, F Conner, commander, left San Francisco April [illegible] at [illegible] M. Stopped at [illegible] city, Trinidad and Crescent City [illegible] and mails. Arrived at Esquimalt April 22d [illegible]. Experienced head winds and encountered a heavy head sea the entire passage. Left Esquimalt April [illegible] at 7.30 A M. Arrived at Astoria April 24th at 8.30 A M and left at 9 A M

PASSENGERS.—Col Benj Stark, Geo Daly, McCr[illegible], W [illegible], J A Daggett, Davis, Mrs White, J W B[illegible], Thomas, Rolo, Lapin, Mrs Waldrich and 2 children, [illegible] Tarvey and family, Mrs McCrumb, W Belcher, [illegible] Mrs Myers, Crosby, Richardson, Miss [illegible], Miss [illegible], Clark, McCloskey, Newby, Drumhills, Miss Ward, Samuel Edwards, E Bacon, Hicks, Hawes, Mrs Smith, Dr Hic[illegible] and lady, J F Bylee, Gordon, Schirpser, Jas Herron, Wells Fargo & Co.'s messenger, and 125 others

RECORDER'S COURT.—Business is getting quite brisk in this Court, much more so than it was during the winter. This is attributable in a great measure, we presume, to the alertness and efficiency of Marshal Clark and his [illegible]. Court opened up yesterday by the appearance of Charles Baker, who was arraigned for being drunk and lying in the streets. Upon promising not to do so again, Charles was allowed to go free

Joe Dorval next came forward. His offense was getting drunk and raising a rumpus generally. Not so lenient as in the first case, however, his Honor required him to pay a fine of five dollars and costs, which Joseph very willingly paid and went his way

The case of James Rochford, accused of stealing wood from Andrew Knight, was continued to nine o'clock this morning

THEATRE AGAIN.—By advertisement this morning, it will be seen that the theatrical troupe under the management of Mr J P Dennison, have returned from Dalles and again opened the Willamette Theatre and propose entertaining our people, for a season in the presentation of dramatical plays, songs, &c, &c. To-night the great drama of the "Corsican Brothers, or the Family Feud will be played, in which Mr & Mrs Waldron, Mr Thayer, Mr Mortimore, and others will take appropriate characters. This is a beautiful play, and will pay to go and see it

REMARKABLE.—"That may be, but we received two dispatches in advance of you and published them in extra form the morning previous."—Times of yesterday

The above only contains two misrepresentations, which is nearer the truth than the tail number of Leland's Letter is in the habit of [illegible]. Only one dispatch was received and printed in advance of the OREGONIAN, and it was published in the evening. And the secret of the Times' getting this dispatch was owing to a preconcerted friendly arrangement between it and the Superintendent of the line, by which the profits from the sale of its extras was to go to a party not publicly connected with that shop. It is quite probable another "two-bits extra" would have been issued the next morning, had it not been for an accident of discovery, which defeated their plans. Try again!

U. S. POSTAGE STAMPS.—We are informed by Mr. F. M. Plummer, Deputy Postmaster in this city, that a number of letters are daily found in the letter box with U S Revenue [illegible] attached to them instead of Postage stamps. Revenue stamps cannot be taken for [illegible], hence the sealing of them to letters amounts to nothing, and the letters so left in the Post Office will remain there until the [illegible] postage is paid, or at the discretion of the Postmaster. Those interested are requested to observe and remember these facts

ATTENTION DESERTERS!—You are notified, by publication of General Orders, No 11, in to-day's paper, that a day of grace has been offered you to the first of June to return to your place and duty among the ranks of the brave and patriotic soldiers of our bleeding country. Right flank, right face! forward march!

FUNERAL SERVICES.—The funeral service of the late Mr. Tobias Myers, will be held at Trinity Church on to-morrow, 26th inst, immediately after morning prayer. The services will commence at 10½ o'clock

Steel-Clads for the Confederates.

Our correspondent from London has sent us facts which if true, should awaken the utmost vigilance on the part of our authorities at Washington We now have information from another source which we deem entirely reliable, that should be laid before the Government A gentleman who is in constant communication with those who know what is going on in the ship yards of the Clyde and the Thames, says that at the present time five large steamers are being built on these two rivers, which if they do not come into the hands of the Government by purchase will go into the hands of the Confederates

One of the largest is being constructed by Thompson & Co., ship builders on the Clyde The whole vessel is to be encased in maleable steel There are two prows one within the other, with an airtight compartment of fifteen feet between them The prow is short, shaped like the end of an oyster shell, above water to the deck, and below water, is encased with several inches of this maleable steel with two feet of teak below this, and another inside mail of steel upon the teak The lower part of the prow is connected with the keelson by a heavy piece of maleable steel weighing several tons, with sufficient strength to sustain the whole force of the vessel in running into the ship of an enemy

There is not a point on the outside where a ball can strike it at right angles When struck by any ball now used the steel will spring, yield, and resume its original position nearly again. Another peculiarity is this, the inside prow is the exact counterpart of the outside one, and the air tight compartment between them is calculated to act by compression and expansion, and thus sustain the outside prow against forces brought against it — Also, the sides are oval from the water line outward to the line of the greatest width and from that inward to the decks, and are covered with maleable steel, so that no ball can strike them at right angles, but all must compress the steel mail at the point of contact, which, supported by teak inside, will spring back to its original position, The average speed of this vessel will be sixteen knots an hour A speed far ahead of anything in our service

The fact that this and four other vessels of similar construction are being built by English ship builders for the Confederates, if not for us, is significant. The agent of Thompson & Co. has spent some time South lately He went there secession in principle The vessels were commenced for the Confederates but he has become disgusted with Secession, and now offers these vessels to our government, If we do not take them the Confederates will. They are offered to us at prices that would be paid for them by a British subject if he purchased them We are told that the matter has been brought to the attention of the Governor, that plans of these vessels have also been laid before him that he has laid his information before Mr Seward, and that, comparatively no attention is paid to the fact by the authorities at Washington It cannot be that they are so blind to the interests of this country, as to let these steamers get upon the high seas in the hands of the Confederates

It will not do for them to poh-poh down the information of citizens who take pains to investigate these facts and lay them before the Government for the benefit of the country — It does not seem possible that our information can be true, for if so, Mr Adams, doing his duty as a faithful Minister, has investigated these facts, and has all this information in his possession, and it should incite the Government to take action in the matter It we do our duty those steamers never will fall into the hands of the Confederates, if we do not, millions more will be lost by our merchants to pay for the want of proper energy in the conduct of our affairs. Liberty can be purchased only at the price of eternal vigilance —Post.

Secesh Philosophy —Nobody has a right to be President except a pro-slavery Democrat. We have no Government when the people elect from any other party

Whenever a State becomes dissatisfied with any act of the Federal Government it can secede at will, and it is a violation of the Constitution to coerce it into submission.

Andrew Jackson violated the Constitution when he coerced Calhoun and his compeers into submission to Federal laws in 1832

Wigfall and others had a perfect right to fire on Fort Sumter. The Federal Government is violating the Constitution in resenting the insult.

The Constitution, as we interpret it, and the Union as it was when Davis, Thompson, Toombs and Floyd controlled it

Lincoln is not President of the United States, and we owe no allegiance to the Administration.

It is unconstitutional to arrest anybody who is aiding and abetting the Southern Confederacy.

Stephen A. Douglas was a fool for asserting "That every man must be for the United States or against it There can be no neutrals in this war, only patriots or traitors!"

Jeff. Davis is a high toned, chivalrous gentleman, and Abe Lincoln a negro worshiper and a low, mean Yankee

Old Ben Butler is a beast, and the hoggermuggers a nuisance.

C. L. Vallandigham is a polished statesman and a pure patriot.

The Union can only be restored through the agency of the glorious old Democratic party.

Abe Lincoln is an imbecile and ought to be impeached.

Slavery must exist if the Union is dissolved

It is unconstitutional to vote any other than the Democratic ticket.

Everybody is an abolitionist who is in favor of suppressing the rebellion

Lincoln's hirelings and minions are prosecuting the war to overthrow the Constitution and free the negro.

The people of the North are low bred menials, not capable of self-government, while those of the South are of a superior order, and born to rule.

The Federal Government is a mere dependency of the States.

We claim the protection of, but are conscientiously opposed to swearing allegiance to the Federal Government

We are in favor of the Federal Government prostrating itself at the feet of Jeff Davis & Co., by granting an armistice and suing for peace.

In this war the Federal Government has lost everything and gained nothing

This is the reign of terror, Jacobin oaths, secret inquisitions, arbitrary arrests and political bastiles

Abolition is a horrible thing, beware of its meshes.

The Congress of the United States is a fanatical mob, and the members of Lincoln's Cabinet subservient tools

The South has ample reason for armed resistance to the Federal Government

Our sympathies are on the side of the South in the present struggle, but we are too cowardly to shoulder arms and enter the rebel service.

Opposition to the Conscription Act. Its enforcement will wipe out the Southern Confederacy.—Sierra Democrat.

INDUCED by the extensive sale and universal popularity of Hoofland's German Bitters (purely vegetable,) hosts of ignorant Quacks and unscrupulous adventurers have opened upon suffering humanity the flood gates of Nostrums in the shape of poor Whisky vilely compounded with injurious drugs and christened Tonics Stomachics and Bitters

Beware of the innumerable array of Alcoholic preparations in plethoric bottles and big bellied kegs under the modest appellation of Bitters which instead of curing only aggravate disease and leave the disappointed sufferer in despair

Hoofland's German Bitters!

Are not a new and untried article but have stood the test of fifteen years trial by the American public and their reputation and sale are not rivalled by any similar preparation

The proprietors have thousands of letters from the most eminent

CLERGYMEN
PHYSICIANS
and
CITIZENS,

Testifying of their own personal knowledge, to the beneficial effects and medical virtues of these Bitters.

Do you want something to strengthen you?
Do you want a good appetite?
Do you want to build up your constitution?
Do you want to feel well?
Do you want to get rid of nervousness?
Do you want energy?
Do you want to sleep well?
Do you want a brisk and vigorous feeling?
If so, use HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.

From Rev J Newton Brown D D , Editor of the Encyclopedia of Religious Knowledge.

Although not disposed to favor or recommend Patent Medicines in general through distrust of their ingredients and effects I yet know of no sufficient reasons why a man may not testify to the benefits he believes himself to have received from any simple preparation in the hope that he may thus contribute to the benefit of others

I do this the more readily in regard to Hoofland's German Bitters prepared by Dr C M Jackson, of this city, because I was prejudiced against them for many years under the impression that they were chiefly an alcoholic mixture I am indebted to my friend Robert Shoemaker Esq for the removal of this prejudice by proper tests, and for encouragement to try them when suffering from great and long continued debility The use of three bottles of these Bitters at the beginning of the present year, was followed by evident relief and restoration to a degree of bodily and mental vigor which I had not felt for six months before and had almost despaired of regaining, I, therefore thank God and my friend for directing me to the use of them

J NEWTON BROWN.

Philadelphia June 23 1861

PARTICULAR NOTICE.

There are many preparations sold under the name of Bitters, put up in quart bottles, compounded of the cheapest whiskey or common rum, costing from 20 to 40 cents per gallon, the taste disguised by Anise or Coriander Seed.

This class of Bitters has caused, and will continue to cause as long as they can be sold, hundreds to die the death of the drunkard By their use the system is kept continually under the influence of Alcoholic Stimulants of the worst kind, the desire for Liquor is created and kept up, and the result of it is all the horrors attendant upon a drunkard's life and death

For those who desire and will have a Liquor Bitters, we publish the following receipt Get One Bottle Hoofland's German Bitters and mix with Three Quarts of Good Brandy or Whiskey, and the result will be a preparation that will far excel in medical virtues and true excellence any of the numerous Liquor Bitters in the market and will cost much less. You will have all the virtues of Hoofland's Bitters in connection with a good article of Liquor at a much less price than these inferior preparations will cost you

ATTENTION, SOLDIERS!

AND THE FRIENDS OF SOLDIERS.

We call the attention of all having relations or friends in the army to the fact that HOOFLAND'S German Bitters will cure nine tenths of the diseases induced by exposures and privations incident to camp life In the lists, published almost daily in the newspapers, on the arrival of the sick it will be noticed that a very large proportion are suffering from debility Every case of that kind can be readily cured by Hoofland's German Bitters Diseases resulting from disorders of the digestive organs are speedily removed We have no hesitation in stating that, if these Bitters were freely used among our soldiers, hundreds of lives might be saved that otherwise will be lost

We call particular attention to the following remarkable and well authenticated cure of one of the nation's heroes, whose life, to use his own language, "has been saved by the Bitters

Philadelphia August 23, 1862.

Messrs Jones & Evans—Well gentlemen, your Hoofland's German Bitters has saved my life There is no mistake in this It is vouched for by numbers of my comrades some of whose names are appended, and who were fully cognizant of all the circumstances of my case I am, and have been for the last four years a member of Sherman's celebrated battery and under the immediate command of Captain R B Ayres Through the exposure attendant upon my arduous duties I was attacked in November last with inflammation of the lungs and was for seventy two days in the hospital This was followed by great debility heightened by an attack of dysentery. I was then removed from the White House and sent to this city on board the steamer State of Maine, from which I landed on the 28th of June Since that time I have been about as low as any one could be and still retain a spark of vitality For a week or more I was scarcely able to swallow anything and if I did force a morsel down it was immediately thrown up again

I could not even keep a glass of water on my stomach. Life could not last under these circumstances; and accordingly the physicians who had been working faithfully, though unsuccessfully to rescue me from the grasp of the dread Archer frankly told me they could do no more for me, and advised me to see a clergyman and to make such disposition of my limited funds as best suited me An acquaintance who visited me at the hospital Mr Frederick Steinbrom of Sixth below Arch Street, advised me, as a forlorn hope to try your Bitters and kindly procured a bottle From the time I commenced taking them the gloomy shadow of death receded and I am now, thank God for it getting better Though I have taken but two bottles I have gained ten pounds and I feel sanguine of being permitted to rejoin my wife and daughter, from whom I have heard nothing for eighteen months, for, gentlemen, I am a loyal Virginian from the vicinity of Front Royal To your invaluable Bitters I owe the certainty of life which has taken the place of vague fears—to your Bitters will I owe the glorious privilege of again clasping to my bosom those who are dearest to me in life.

Very truly yours
ISAAC MALONE.

We fully concur in the truth of the above statement, as we had despaired of seeing our comrade Mr Malone, restored to life
